STORY

The player takes over the form of Jasper Oprel. An aspiring game developer that has been captured within a spherical cage. He finds himself in a classroom at the HKU with many different portals to worlds. All of which were made before Jasper re-read the assignment and found out he and the HKU were to be the main characters in this particular story. Now he is trapped forever in a golf ball of his own creation, forced to travel the world searching for places to fit in.
